MUNICIPALITIES DISCUSS WAR'S UPHEAVALS LARGE UNITS

MAYOR T. S. HUGHES
JOINS R. C. A. F.

The following resolution was drawn up and passed unanimously at a meeting representing Municipal Districts, held Wednesday afternoon in the Memorial Hall.

"Whereas this meeting has listened with interest to the various speakers presenting the case for and against the proposed policy of the Provincial Government with regard to Enlarged Municipal Units and whereas it appears to us that the method of setting up such Enlarged Units neglects the essential principle of giving the people concerned given an opportunity to say whether or not they approve of such a plan.

And whereas it is alleged that savings will be made in any proposed Enlarged Municipal Units, but that such savings will not be apparent until after the first year of operation.

And whereas the Alberta Associations of Municipal Districts has urged that the Units already created be permitted to function on a trial basis for a period of at least two years, after which the people in such Units be given by vote whether they are in favour of continuing such Unit or not.

Now therefore be it resolved that this meeting go on record as being of the opinion that no action should be taken by the Government to reorganize the Municipal Districts in this area without first submitting any plan which they may devise to a vote of the people who might be concerned.

Motion—Mr H. Groves.

Seconded—Mr Geo. Boyach.

Reeve Jas. Harwood presided and special speakers present were J. F. Wheatley, Reeve of Blackfoot, Mr Farnalls, President of the Provincial Municipalities, Mr Soutar, Edmonton, Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs and Don J. McKinnon, M.L.A.

Representatives were present from Blackfoot, Keoma, Beddington and Bow Valley.

J. F. Wheatley of Chancelor, speaking first, stated that he was a member of the executive committee of the question of larger units and as such had discussed the question various M. D.'s and had met ministers of the Legislature. Mr Wheatley stated the question had been discussed by U. F. A. Govt. in 1932 when public opinion was strongly opposed. The question had been dropped to be revived by the present administration. Public opinion is still as strongly opposed and he felt the Govt. should give heed to public interest. He opposed centralized government relative to the question, and felt the Municipalities can give better service to their districts than would result from control from Edmonton.

He said the committee realize some reorganization is necessary but felt M. D.'s now functioning satisfactorily should be left alone and stated the M. D. of Blackfoot is absolutely satisfied with present set up.

Mr Wheatley stated that in approaching the Govt. their executive had asked that a Committee be formed and that they have some representation on it, which at first was promised but later passed over.

The Minister of Municipal Affairs has been granted unlimited power to enlarge, reduce or dismiss the Councils of Municipal Districts, and while he the minister said he does not intend to apply this power, except in extreme cases, some had some fear the power might be exercised to an undemocratic degree. Mr Wheatley closed his interesting talk by saying he felt strong pressure should be brought to bear to shelve the question until after the war.

Mr Farnalls was the second speaker. He discussed first the problem of harvest help. He said that the High Schools are to remain closed for one month longer. A careful survey of the needs and assistance possible in the districts should be reported to the Central office, Calgary by the local M. D. Secretary.

With reference to the question of the day, the speaker stated that certain revisions are necessary and inevitable, but these should be brought about not by the whims of Municipalities or Governments but by conditions. Herein lies an opportunity to make a contribution to the country for this and for generations to come.

Mr Farnalls briefly reviewed the set up for the past 35 years.

In 1912 the present 9 twp. unit was established. The basis of M. D. should have been formed on the productive capacity of the area.

In 1940 and 1941 the Provincial Committee met but the M. D. Executive was not given representation.

In January 1942 the first official information was given that the Govt. intends to proceed with the establishment of the larger Unit.

Mr Farnalls said one purpose of the Municipal Districts is the construction of Public Works and to learn what is the most efficient construction thereof.

The local M. D. office is the natural point of contact with Provincial or Federal Govt.

It is the essence of good citizenship to support the Government when elected though you had not voted for it. In what appears to you a wrong, make known your disapproval, but give support where you think it is deserved.

Mr McKinnon in a brief address stressed the rights and privilege of a people in a democracy. Conditions are changing. The former production of crops to conform to the needs of today. Conservation and rehabilitation are productive capacity points that should be taken into accounts before any reorganization takes place and the nearness of the people to the place of their administration is very important.

Mr Soutar, Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs acting for Hon. L. Maynard who was unable to be present, quoted figures and statistics to a very great length.

Mr Soutar supported the establishment of the larger Districts, stating that they are a natural trend of conditions. He felt that more progressive measures would result from the larger area, such as Municipal Hospitals, Health Units, etc.

There was much variance of opinion, evidently no converts being made to the Government's plan.

Reeve Harwood named Messrs Groves, Boyach and Pawkes with D. N. Gardiner as secretary, a committee to draft the resolution, given at the beginning.

Mr E. Jackson of Chandle moved a vote of thanks to the speakers and the meeting closed by singing the National Anthem.

There were about 35 present.

The war is creating many disturbing situations in families, friendship and community life.

In this respect, Strathmore is by no means exempt, in truth the war is taking a very heavy toll of our manhood, and large contributions are being made to the various funds established for the prosecution of the conflict.

And now Strathmore citizens are hearing the word of the enlistment in the Air Force of our very capable Mayor, with a sad realization of the loss his absence will mean to our Town.

Since April 7th, 1936, T. S. Hughes has filled the position of Mayor in a manner that has never been surpassed and will be hard to equal.

He has filled the position of Chief Magistrate not only at the Council Table, but has given freely of his time and assistance to all local activities, including sports, local improvement, patriotic and political doings.

As a citizen his outlook has always been progressive.

He has now been appointed to the R. C. A. F. with the rank of Pilot Officer and is to report at Lachine, Quebec to take a course leading to Air Strathmore citizens will congratulate Mayor Hughes on this appointment and will unite in wishing him God speed.

Mr Hoad was in charge of Blackie-Denton Mission both as Student and Deacon and for the past four years has been Incumbent of the Parish of Clareholm-Nanton. He is married and has one small daughter.

Rev. Hoad will begin his work at St. Michael's and All Angels' Church September 1st.

The people of St. Michael's church and Strathmore citizens generally will welcome to our midst Rev. and Mrs. Hoad.

The only excuse some guys have for staying away from work is that absence makes the heart grow fonder.

WEDDING

GROVES-STANGNESS

A quiet wedding took place at Knox United Church, Calgary, at 4 o'clock, July 16, when Selma Elaine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Stangness of Silvertown, Oregon, formerly of Carleton Place, became the bride of George Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Groves of Strathmore. Rev. Allen R. Huband officiated.

The bride wore a queen's blue sheer redingote ensemble with white accessories. Her corsage was sweetheart roses and white stephanotes.

The bridesmaid, Miss Violet Groves, wore a dusty rose afternoon dress with white accessories. Her corsage was talisman roses and blue cornflowers.

The groom was supported by Mr. Gordon Christensen of Carleton Place.

After the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the Mandarin Gardens.

The happy couple motored to Sylvan Lake where they will spend a brief honeymoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Groves will reside on a farm near Strathmore.

THE 'OUT-SIDE'

Calgary will be represented at an Edmonton conference, August 7, called to consider the position had the course to be taken in regards transfer of western labor to eastern industries, it is announced by Mayor Andrew Davison.

What's the Policy?

Canada is coming nearer and nearer to the end of her tether in the matter of manpower for the war undertaking, and recent statements of the director of National selective service have been causing some uneasiness in Alberta lest this Province be so stripped of manpower to man factories in the East that we will have great difficulty to carry on. As a result of this fear a delegation of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce waited on the Alberta Cabinet this week and presented a brief setting forth these fears and asking for a conference to consider what future action should be taken.

The Western Retail Lumbermen's Association has estimated that space for an additional two million bushels of grain will be required on Western Canadian farms this year. It will take two million board feet of lumber to meet this need. The question is, in view of war's demands, can this supply of lumber be obtained?

The U. S. Government is asking farmers in that country to grow fatter cattle, hogs and sheep so that the fat may be trimmed from the meat and used for war purposes. In this country the farmer who gets his hogs too fat is docked. It's a queer world.

No greeting cards may now be manufactured for sale at retail for more than 25 cents each, including the envelope, other than those now in process of manufacture, which may be completed under permit, or except personal greeting cards which the manufacturer or printer finishes by printing thereon the customer's name and address for the use of the customer only, or special greeting cards which are wholly manufactured for the customers' use and not for resale.

Charles Traunweiser, of Calgary, president of the Alberta Hotel Association, issued a statement at Edmonton last week that his organization will support the formation of an organization proposed by Finance Minister Leley and intended to bring about greater temperance and moderation. He also said the organization has given $40,000 to the Dominion government as a "Help Win the War" donation.

Al Marshall W. A. Bishop plained pilot's wings on the tunic of his 19-year-old son, Leading Aircraftman A. C. W. A. Bishop, during a wings parade at Uplands Service Flying training school, Ottawa. The son of the First Great War ace was one of a large class to receive their wings.

School Of Religion Fairweather Camp

There were about sixty attendees at the recent School of Religion with several visitors going out from Calgary to hear various lectures. Dr. Sherwood Eddy's lecture on "Man Discovers God" was very stimulating and his lectures on Current Events interesting to all.

The Veteran Dr. Huettis shared the conclusions of his young and adventurous mind as he dealt with recent philosophic writings.

BRITISH MINISTER TO U. S. DISCUSSES WORLD TO COME

BY HAROLD BUTLER

I want to give some idea, if I can, of what the ordinary men and women of Britain are thinking and doing about the war. I think they can be summed up in three words, "grim but cheerful." Britain is fighting for her life and the people know it. The war penetrates to every corner of their daily lives. It gets right into the kitchen, the larder and the wardrobe. It has pretty well wiped out the private automobile. The trains and buses are fewer and more crowded. There are all kinds of little worries and hardships which hit everybody every day.

A Fire of National Resolve

But there is also a big credit side to the account. The war is a source of inspiration and energy which enables people to meet all their troubles with a cheerful spirit. They have had hard knocks and have been through some very dark hours, but the sense of common peril and common purpose has lit a fire of national resolve which has melted class differences and party rivalries, so that the country is now one family as it has never been in my lifetime — fighting together, working together, praying together. Anyone who has not seen Britain since the war would hardly recognize it now . . .

Let me give a few simple facts by way of illustration. Everybody goes to bed early these days, partly because the streets are pitch dark, partly because the movie theaters, the bus services and the suburban trains close down about ten o'clock. Two weeks ago I walked at ten-thirty along Piccadilly and Regent Street in London, which correspond more or less to Fifth Avenue and Broadway in New York. There were only a few people about and an occasional taxi. By eleven o'clock there was hardly anyone to be seen.

Another fact — you may have heard of the spacious old country homes of the wealthy folk. Very few of them are being used just as homes now. Many of them have been commandeered by the Government for the army or the air force or for some other government service. I remember, for instance, taking over a house with twenty-three bedrooms and seventeen bathrooms and turning it into a training school for 150 fire fighters. Those that are left have their quota of children evacuated from the great cities or have been converted into hospitals or put to some other war use.

And then there is the money question. I think that has been well handled. The income tax rises steeply. A working man with a pay check of $33 a week pays $3.65 in tax if he has a wife and two children; if he is a bachelor he pays $9.50. A rich man with $400,000 a year pays $377,900 into the treasury . . .

And what will Britain be like when it is all over? I am told that some Americans still picture it as it was in bygone days, a country run by a privileged class of landed aristocrats. Well, that old England was disappearing fast before the last World War. It had almost entirely disappeared by 1933. In the last thirty years a huge program of social reform has been carried through — slum districts have been cleared, a great national health service built up, compensation for sickness, unemployment and old age established for the whole people.

After the war we want social advance to continue at a higher tempo. Everyone is agreed about that. Full employment and social security for all are the aims which the country will expect its government to achieve, whatever sacrifices are entailed.

But don't imagine that Britain is going Communist, or anything of that sort. Englishmen and Scotsmen and Welshmen are not made that way. They are stout individuals who want to manage their own lives, and not to have them managed for them. But they also think that freedom can be combined with a social purpose, with greater all-round happiness and more general prosperity. How exactly it will be worked out, nobody can yet say, but a lot of thinking and planning are going on.

What Everyone Wants—

In any case prosperity is not just a national affair, but a world affair. It cannot be achieved by Britain or by any other country alone. It depends on the creation of a new world system, and that can only be done by the British nations working hand in hand with the United States to lay its foundations. We believe that we want the same kind of world and the same kind of freedom as you do. We are prepared to go the limit during the war and after the war to get them. We want better living standards, better homes, greater security and greater opportunities for everybody, just as you do.

That may all come in due time — but not yet. We have first got to win. All our thoughts like all your thoughts are bent on that. We know that harrier tests and greater suffering may still lie before us, but we are sure of the end. The power of evil cannot prevail against the united wills and the growing might of those four great peoples, the United States, the British Commonwealth, the Soviet Union and China, backed by all the other United Nations.

WHEAT BOARD EXONERATED

The Canadian Wheat Board is operating efficiently and in a business-like way. This was the conclusion arrived at by the agricultural committee of the House of Commons, which investigated the Board's operations. The investigation developed out of charges made by R. B. Hanson, leader of the Conservative party. On March 17th Mr Hanson made an attack on the Wheat Board in parliament. He accused it of following practices which tended to restrict the sale of wheat and increase storage charges, thus maintaining the elevator companies in such "unexampled luxury that their incentive is to hold, not to sell, wheat."

The committee's report criticized unwarranted attacks on the Board as harmful and likely to shake the confidence of the producer and the taxpayer in the integrity of the Wheat Board officials.

WESTERN CANADA
ASKS A SQUARE DEAL

A MEETING is being held in Edmonton Friday to discuss the action by the Province of Alberta to be taken with reference to industries and man power being sent to the East to the detriment of Alberta.

The West is growing up and will not willingly submit to unfair discrimination.

The following article from The Lethbridge Herald is a clear statement.

The Edmonton agitation appears to have arisen from a report emanating in the East that Alberta was to be stripped of its scrap metal and this, together with the available smelting furnaces, is to be moved East to be used in big plants there for fabrication of war materials. This will all require labor, and that, it is alleged, is also to be moved East, further concentrating secondary industry in the Central Provinces.

There has been complaint from the West that little effort has been made during the war to follow the Russian policy of developing secondary industries far back from the country's frontiers. Here in Alberta practically no secondary war industries have been established though we have the world's greatest reserves of coal. The suggestion that steel rolling mill equipment should be moved from Alberta along with the tons of thousands of tons of scrap metal which are to be found on tel farms, and all this sent East for processing at a time when labor, coal and railway facilities are short, leaves Albertans cold. It does not strike them as good business. In support of its contention that a change should be made in this policy, the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce pointed out—

1—Scrap metal, now sent to Eastern Canada, could be utilized by the rolling mill at Calgary if sufficient material for the erection of an open-hearth furnace was assured.

2—Lumber labor requirements for the fall are estimated at 8000 men.

3—Harvest requirements are estimated from 10,000 to 15,000 men.

4—Mining, particularly coal mining, is greatly understaffed. Production is estimated to be six weeks behind schedule.

5—Production of hogs, cattle and general dairy production of war food essential for export will be greatly curtailed by next year solely due to labor shortage; 148 points in Alberta report present shortage, with serious shortage impending.

6—Tremendous labor drainage by the needs of United States and other contractors on Alaska highway and other defence projects.

7—Alberta's high percentage of recruits to armed forces.

8—Alberta's high percentage of recruits to labor in the East through war production draining program.

9—The statement of Mr. Elliott Little, director of selective service, that "labor is to be moved."

Alberta is anxious that Canada's war production should be developed to the highest possible point, but would like some assurance that everything is being done to keep the country's effort within balance for the good of all sections, and for the benefit of the whole country after the war.

TEA AND COFFEE RATIONED

BEGINNING Monday, August 3, tea and coffee were rationed for Canadians the amount being 1 oz. of tea or 4 ozs. of coffee per person per week but not both.

The board estimated the ration allotment would make about 12 1-2 cups a week.

This is going to curtail the amount of tea and coffee drinking more drastically than did the sugar ration, unless one adds water to dilute the quality but not the quantity.

However Canadians with characteristic spirit will take this "on the chin and smile above it all."

The city of Montreal only has 53 unemployed persons on the official relief lists.

ROCKYFORD

— By K. M. G. —

Rockyford is rejoicing over the fact that they are finally getting some gravelled highway. Gravel haulers are now busy and considerable of the remaining connecting road will be in splendid shape before harvest. There was the small section of 22 miles between the Medicine Hat highway and the Drumheller route to be surfaced and we sincerely trust the balance will be completed in the near future.

Mr Geo. Williams who has been taking his training in Air Craft Construction in California is at present home for a short visit.

Mrs D. R. Poole has been spending a few days in Calgary with her husband and daughter Muretta.

Mr Joe Leonard of the Canadian Army is renewing friends in Rockyford over the week end.

Wedding

Roppel — Bensted

A wedding of interest to a wide circle of friends was solemnized at the Rockyford United Church on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock July 31st, when Louisa Julia, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs Theo. Bensted became the bride of Mr Lawrence George Roppel, only son of Mr and Mrs Geo. Roppel, all of Rockyford. Rev. H. V. Ellison performed the ceremony.

The church was beautifully decorated in summer flowers and baby breath with tea pew markers of pink sweet peas and white bows. The wedding music was played by Mrs Shapter. The bride who was given in marriage by her father looked very lovely in her floor length gown of white sheer and silver slippers, her flowing veil was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. She was assisted by her sister Helen (Mrs Owen Wise) who chose for her dress a floor length peach shaded sheer and lace, and carried pink carnations.

The best man was Mr Owen Wise, and the two uncles of the groom Mr Louis and Simon Roppel acted as ushers. During the signing of the Register Mr Art Sangster sang "Because".

A reception was held at the bride's home for the immediate relatives and close friends. The bride's mother received in a dress of Dawn blue and hat to match. She wore a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother assisted, wearing a rose dress and matching hat with a corsage of matching roses.

Tables were arranged on the wide veranda where about forty guests assembled. The bride's tables were centred by a three tiered wedding cake.

For travelling the bride wore a figured dress of blue and white with coat, hat and gloves of the darker blue. After a short honeymoon at mountain resorts Mr and Mrs Roppel will make their home in the Rockyford district.

After a four weeks holiday partly taken up with assisting at a camp at Sylvan Lake, Rev. Ellison has returned and will take up his duties again.

Miss Anna Roberts is home for her vacation with her parents.

Mr A. King who has been serving with the Canadian Navy on the west coast arrived home last week for the harvest leave, as his father has been ill and needs his help.

The Rockyford Red Cross have not been idle during the summer for a large shipment was forwarded to the Head Office before the end of July.

—“Lines to First Aid Students”

Lady if you see me lying
In the ground I may be dying.
Let my gore run bright and free.
Don't attempt to bandage me.

While there's life there's hope, so Pet
Don't apply a tourniquet;
Do not give for my salvation,
Artificial respiration.

Do not stretch my bones or joints,
Do not press my pressure points;
If queer symptoms you should see
Don't experiment on me.

If you must be busy, pray
Help to keep the crowd away.
So whatever my condition
Phone at once for a physician.

Let me lie, I'll take a chance
Waiting for an ambulance,
From First Aid I beg release:
Lady, let me die in peace.

MEETING RE MUNICIPAL DISTRICTS

Wednesday evening in the Standard S. & S. Hall a meeting to discuss the question of enlarged Municipal Units was held with about 70 interested persons attending. A. A. Larsen, Reeve of Grassvald occupied the chair.

The speakers were same as those at the meeting in Strathmore in the afternoon, a lengthy report of which is given herein.

The Resolution passed was that endorsed by the Association of M. D.'s and read by Mr Wheatley, but space forbids printing in this issue.

The Resolution was unanimously endorsed. A lively discussion followed the addresses showing the opposition generally felt to the scheme.

THE LOCKER PLANT

Owing to difficulties the Negotiating Committee are finding in being able to obtain a clear title to the property, the Committee has not been able to close a deal in the meantime, and nothing may be done for some time.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. SCOTT

HOMELY HOMILY

—BY A SKY PILOT—

Heard By The Way—

"My one deep regret is that I didn't go to see my mother again before she died." These words which I could not help overhearing, fixed my attention upon the conversation carried on by the two travellers in the seat ahead of mine.

"My story is a longer one," replied the companion, "but, like others, it is the record of a failure to do a kindness when I should have done it. It seems to me that it is always our leaving some kindness undone that brings our keenest regrets."

He stared thoughtfully into space for a while and then related this story:

"It was one day when I noticed a sweet faced, but rugged and uncared for little girl with a red sweater much too big for her, standing before a store window displaying lovely dolls. She must have been about four—maybe five years of age and my questions brought out the fact that she had never owned a doll in her life. I bought her the one with a blue dress which she admired most, and left her in ecstasy with her new possession."

"The only name by which she knew herself was 'Alice.' She had no mother living and the father did not seem to play a big part in her little life. She could give me no further information which at the moment I wanted. I remember now that at the time I felt as though I should do something about her care but, I was busy and the incident soon slipped from my mind."

He continued with more deliberation and greater difficulty.

"Several days later I saw in the paper that a ragged little girl had been found in an alley, hugging a doll with a blue dress which she had wrapped in an old, red sweater. Then I remembered it again and I have never forgiven myself for not following my impulse at the moment when I bought her the doll. Her father was found dead-drunk in his room and entirely unmoved by the tragic news.

"Don't you think that she was happier after all when she died and went to heaven?" his companion asked.

The narrator looked fixedly out of the car window for some moments and then replied:—"No, she went to heaven while she lived."

"What do you mean, Fred?" His companion was perplexed at the answer.

"You do not wait until you die before you enter heaven. You cross the border line into heaven when you love someone, or something more than yourself, like this little girl with her doll. And—well, it is made up of memory of evil done, or our failure to relieve or prevent suffering and misery when we have it in our power to do so."

My note book was never handier and this remarkable dialogue was quickly recorded. I mused. In all my training in theology I had never heard the essentials that make heaven and hell stated more clearly than in the words of this middle-aged layman.

Was it true, I asked myself. What did the Great Master teach? My mind flew to His parable of Dives, and Lazarus as recorded in Luke's Gospel the 16th chapter where Dives was doomed to suffer torment for his failure to take pity on Lazarus, the poor beggar lying at his gate.

I also remembered the vivid description of the Final Judgment Scene in Matthew 25th chapter verses 31 following, where doom was pronounced upon those who failed to relieve others misery and suffering. Yes, my unknown friend had fathomed the mind of Christ in this matter. He knew that only by our selfishness and cold indifference towards our fellow-man can we shut the door of God's mercy tightly against ourselves.

Where love and mercy rule there is God, and where God is there is heaven. Where selfishness and indifference rule—and these are but the quiescent aspects of brutality—there is hell, torment and destruction. John said—"If we love one another God dwelleth in us."

TOWN COUNCIL REGULAR MEETING

The regular meeting of the Town Council was held on Tuesday evening August 4th.

The Financial statements for June and July were presented and examined by each of the councillors present, and passed; the Town's financial position being better than it has been for many years.

It was agreed that the pasture north of town be leased to Mr George Smith for three years, subject to sale.

The following Resolutions were passed— (1) That a discount of three per cent (3%) be allowed on Town Taxes paid on or before October 31st next and that this fact be advertised. (2) That exemption of taxes on church properties in Town be granted for the current year.

Discussion followed re sidewalks, and it was agreed to rebuild plank sidewalk on Third Avenue between 2nd and 3rd Street at present, and to keep planks taken from Railway Avenue for further repairs necessary.

The Town Property Committee agreed to handle the business of general repairs and painting of the Town Hall, this to be more fully discussed at next meeting.

Correspondence was read and application for assistance by the School Fair executive being read. A grant of $25.00 was passed.

Accounts amounting to over two hundred dollars were passed for payment.

Mayor Hughes intimated that as he had joined the R. C. A. F. this would be the last meeting he would be able to attend. This information was regretfully received and Mr Wears, Town Solicitor, in replying stated that he had sat under all the Mayors the Town had had, from Mayor Lambert onwards, and he was sure that in his opinion Mayor Hughes could yield to none of his predecessors in the close attention he had given to Town business, and he (Mr Wears) marvelled at the Mayor's wonderful memory in his ability to recall minute details of business when any question cropped up as to what had been decided on weeks or months ago.
